SEYMOUR SKINNER

Principal / Springfield Elementary

Nicknames: Wienerhead, Bonehead, Dork, Jellybrains, Dimrod, Numbskull, Principal Dodo, etc., etc.

Warning: Children can smell fear.

Favorite pastimes: Revising and updating the school dress code, clearing his throat over the P.A. system, and trying to discover the identity of the elusive and wily "El Barto."

Bio: After surviving 18 harrowing months in a Vietcong tiger cage, Seymour Skinner thought his roughest days were behind him. Then he met Bart Simpson. Despite his continuing trials at Springfield Elementary, Seymour has made great strides toward self-control. His blind rages are less frequent lately, occurring only upon hearing the sound of cars backfiring, helicopters, 4th of July fireworks, or school bells.

Peace officers / Springfield Police Department

Pet peeve: They both hate playing the "good" cop.

Pastimes: Brushing crumbs off their uniforms, running red lights for the hell of it, working the kinks out of their nightclub routine.

Heroes: McBain, McGarnigal, and McGruff, the Crime Dog.

Bio: Lou and Eddie have developed their own special tests to determine if a driver is drunk. One test involves hopping from one foot to the other while touching your nose with alternating hands and singing "I'm a Little Teapot, Short and Stout." In another, the suspect is dragged from the car, beaten with clubs, and awarded a huge cash settlement.

HUMAN FLY

Daredevil / Springfield

Real name: Jerry Patton.

Secret shame: Has to sew his own costumes.

Brush with fame: Once auditioned for the part of Bumblebee Man but never got a call-back.

Bio: Disgruntled postal worker Jerry Patton had hoped to break out of obscurity when he donned his official fly suit and scaled Springfield's only skyscraper, the eleven-story Wicker Warehouse. After the successful ascent, he planned to capitalize on his fame by selling miniature replicas of himself equipped with tiny suction cups to stick on car windows. Alas, the downtrodden people of Springfield were too depressed to even look up and see him. He returned to the post office a bitter man, and now instead of delivering the mail, he buries it in his backyard.

LAURA POWERS

Bart's first love / Springfield Elementary

Special skills: Can speak politely to adults when necessary, teach cats to waltz, and make even belches seem alluring.

Bio: Laura's foreign travels have forced her to adapt quickly to any situation. She can make herself understood in eight different languages but finds the quickest way to make friends is through the universal language of the wedgie. The foreign names for a wedgie may differ (in Egypt, "The Pharoah's Beard," in Holland, "Plugging the Dike," in Japan, "The Sumo-dizer," and in the Deep South, "The Cotton Picker"), but the end result is the same: camaraderie through good-natured torment and humiliation. She captured Bart's heart in the classic manner: she pretended to be a zombie, punched him in the shoulder, and stuck her spit-moistened finger in his ear.

Claim to fame: Can spit farther than any boy.

Turn-on: Rich people with emotional problems.

Turn-off: Poor people with emotional problems.

Author of: I'm Okay, Why Aren't You?; If Money is the Root of All Evil, Let Me Set You Free; and his autobiography, Me, Myself, and I: Memoirs of a Modest Genius.

Bio: Most therapy programs are agonizingly slow and emotionally traumatic, but not so with Dr. Marvin Monroe. You'll be cured just as quickly as your check clears. While his patented "Monroebilizer," a combination Nordic Track and cattle prod, has made him rich, it has also made him the target of criminal investigations by the AMA, the FDA, and the American Cattlemen's Association. But the heartfelt testimonials of his patients would fill his office ten times over, if only they could regain their hand/eye coordination long enough to write them.

Local blues legend / The Jazz Hole

Claim to fame: Has depressed people on all 7 continents.

Secret shame: Worships Liberace.

How he got his name: Has never been to a dentist.

Bio: The Bleeding Gums sound was born when Murphy, playing ever higher in the altissimo register, accidentally swallowed his mouthpiece. His squeaking and honking for help enthralled his audience and, upon his release from the hospital, he adopted his trademark style. His original compositions include "I Never Had an Italian Suit Blues," "I Accidentally Sat on My Saxophone Blues," "Get That Accordion Away from Me Blues," and "My Hair Keeps Recedin' Blues."

Twins / 4th grade, Springfield Elementary

Nicknames: Terri and Sherri.

Secret desire: To be united in one body.

Secret fear: It might be too crowded in there.

Bio: Sherri and Terri were born in the quaint English town where they filmed "Village of the Damned." They love tormenting adults by answering to each other's name. In fact, they have done this so often that even they are not sure which is which. Sherri and Terri's eerie musical greeting has become their trademark. # TATTOO GUY

Skin artist / The Drunken Sailor Tattoo Parlor

Real name: Mervin Monroe.

Nickname: Ol' Tremble Fingers.

Beloved pet: A woodpecker named Pokey.

Bio: The younger brother of talk-show psychiatrist Dr. Marvin Monroe, Mervin was the prime subject for all of Marvin's early experiments. After Marvin sent 2000 volts through his electric blanket in an attempt to cure Mervin of his bedwetting problem, Mervin ran away from home for good. He learned his tattooing art while participating in a failed CIA plot to discredit Castro by tattooing a smiley face on Fidel's forehead. His most tragic "skin art" experience centered on Tattoo Annie, who not only broke Mervin's heart but also had it tattooed on her butt.

MATT GROENING

TODD FLANDERS

The anti-Bart / Flanders household

Nickname: Odd Flanders.

Favorite pastimes: Christian frisbee, miniature golf, anointing the sores on the feet of wandering hoboes.

Bio: Todd and Ned Flanders are more than just study-buddies, camping-cronies, praying-partners, strum-chums, poetry-pals, Stratego-amigos, and litter-gitters. They are best friends. Todd once dressed up as the letter "D" to talk about his dad for show-and-tell and wore his costume to school every day after that. He finally stopped wearing the garment when Nelson Muntz attempted to light it on fire. Todd is the TV conscience of the Flanders family. He even removed "Davy & Goliath" from the list of acceptable viewing, because he thought a talking dog was blasphemous.

Secret aspiration: To be more famous than the Beatles.
Pet peeve: The fact that people are always trying to welsh on their agreements with him.

Bio: The Devil grew up reading comic books and listening to heavy metal music, and after a slight misunderstanding with God, was banished from Heaven. With no place left to turn, the Devil created Hell, which has over the years become quite a celebrity hang-out. Contrary to popular belief, it is not easy to get into Hell, as there is such stiff competition for the remaining available spaces. In becoming an engineer, she hoped one day to design vending machines that would deliberately malfunction, thus spreading sweetness throughout the land. Three-time winner of the Springfield Deep Fried Foods Council's Little Miss Corndog Contest, Mindy was also voted by her senior class as Most Likely To Have A Coronary Bypass.

Fatherless boy / Bigger Brothers

Nicknames: Pee Pee, Poopsie, Pippy, Pepto, Popeye, and Pepsi.Favorite constellation: Alan the Cowboy.Bio: Though Homer's time as Bigger Brother to Pepi was short, it was fruitful. Pepi learned how to feed corndogs to dolphins, how to take a nap with your eyes open, and that if something is hard to do, then it's not worth doing. Homer also introduced Pepi to such technological marvels as the garage door opener, the shoe buffer, and the bowling ball with the liquid center.Lifelong ambition: That the rest of his body finally grows to be in proportion to the size of his eyeballs.Special skills: Fawning, looking adorable, and exhibitions of shameless gratitude.SkyBox

LUNCHLADY DORIS

Head dietician / Springfield Elementary

Secret seasoning: Cigarette ashes.

Bio: A former Miss America runner-up, Doris has devoted her life to food preparation, although ironically she lost her own senses of taste and smell in a tragic waffle iron mishap. Doris serves as Honorary Chairperson for the Organ Meat Advisory Council, spearheading the drive to raise the public's innard awareness. Campaigns under her direction include "Liver is for Lovers," "Brains are a Terrible Thing to Waste," and "Tripe: It's Not Just for Breakfast Any More."

Claim to fame: Is the only woman at Springfield Elementary who has dated Groundskeeper Willie more than once.

Extraterrestrial / In continuous orbit around Earth.

Real name: To pronounce it correctly, you would have to pull out your tongue.

Favorite TV: "My Favorite Martian," "Star Trek," and "Geraldo."

Pastimes: Sneep too, the ancient Rigelian art of bowel arrangement; slaking his thirst with human blood; Yahtzee.

Bio: Until his home planet's recent scientific breakthrough, the contact lens, Kodos wore glasses and was continually tormented by his shipmates with jeers of "Hey, two-eyes." Like all Rigelians, Kodos speaks English perfectly since it is exactly the same as Rigelian. However, one can tell the difference between a Rigelian speaker and an English speaker: the Rigelian is more likely to use complete sentences and accompanies each word with a quart of drool.

Turn-ons: Finger foods, feather boas, the sensuous feel of fine Corinthian leather.

Turn-offs: Ungrateful humans, space dust, Rigelians who push in line.

MARGE'S GUIDE TO GLAMOUR

- Low on lip gloss? Try smearing a pat of butter across your mouth. It keeps your lips just as shiny, and boy, is it ever alluring! (I have to practically pry Homer off my face when I'm wearing it.)
- Eliminate hard-to-get-at navel dirt with an electric toothbrush, cornmeal, and some bleach. Works well on bunions, too!
- Tired of spending a fortune on overpriced toilet water? Just use the real thing!

REMEMBER: BEAUTY IS ONLY SKIN-DEEP, SO KEEP YOUR SKIN ON AT ALL TIMES.

- Cover those unsightly blemishes with a yellow highlighter. No one will be the wiser!
- Keep your head looking its perkier by substituting spray-on varnish for hairspray.

(WARNING: Let dry completely before putting on any headgear.)

SPRINGFIELD'S TOP TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

1. THE BOTTOMLESS PIT

Still Springfield's favorite dumpsite! However, some wacko environmentalists insist that there is no such thing as a bottomless pit. And the fact that the hole has been overflowing with debris since 1987 may lend some credence to their crazy, alarmist claims.

2. SPRINGFIELD TIRE DUMP

Sending particulate matter into the atmosphere for the past 70 years. And home of the smell that made Springfield famous!

3. LAKE BURNS

Nestled at the foot of the majestic Springfield Nuclear Plant, this unique body of water is home to such oddities of nature as the giant 6-legged beaver, the phosphorescent bullfrog, the 3-eyed fish, and the half-man, half-alligator creature known as Gatorman.

4. FILTH MOUNTAIN

As the name implies, this spectacular 2,248-foot high peak on the outskirts of Springfield is made entirely of garbage! Guided walking tours are offered Tuesday-Saturday. Camping facilities and RV hook-ups also available. Please don't drink from the raw sewage creek, however.

MAGGIE SIMPSON'S BOTTOM 14

1. Being left alone at home with Homer.
2. Strained beets. Especially for breakfast.
3. All those frightening nursery rhymes.
4. Being picked up by the scruff of her neck by Santa's Little Helper.
5. The taste of Snowball II's hairballs.
6. Being talked down to by nursery-schoolers.
7. Crawling on gravel.
8. Pacifiers in any color besides red.
9. Being buried in the backyard by Santa's Little Helper.
10. All those silly infants who insist on jumping on the Barney bandwagon.
11. Anything that won't fit in her mouth.
12. Teething.
13. Getting a saliva bath from Santa's Little Helper.
14. The one-eyebrowed baby.
